

Assembly Resource

Read through the stories but watch out as one of them is fake! Using the clues below, can you decide which is the made-up story and why you think that.

- 👁️ Who made this?
- 👁️ Who is the target audience?
- 👁️ Could anyone benefit or be harmed by this message?
- 👁️ What is left out of this message that might be important?
- 👁️ Is this credible (and what makes you think that)?

Rescue dog needs bilingual owner because he only understands Polish

Tom Towers for Metro.co.uk Thursday 19 Jun 2015 3:49 am

f t g+ 1.2k

This rescue dog is desperate for a bilingual owner – because he only understands commands in Polish.

Caleb, a four-year-old German shepherd – was thought to be 'untrainable' because he could not follow instructions in English.

But Dogs Trust Kenilworth discovered he previously had Polish owners, and training sessions revealed he could only understand the Eastern European language.

Source: Metro Newspaper

GOOGLE EARTH FINDS WOMAN TRAPPED ON DESERTED ISLAND FOR 7 YEARS

In 2007, Gemma Sheridan and 2 friends set out on a voyage that was to take them from their home town of Liverpool, across the Atlantic to the Panama Canal and then onwards to the beautiful island of Hawaii.

The first stage of the voyage went without incident. However, after passing through the Panama Canal and into the Pacific, things started to take a turn for the worse.

Source: Newshound website

Russians build three-car fidget spinner

By News from Elsewhere...
...as found by BBC Monitoring

22 minutes ago

f t b Share

Three Lada Samaras and a lot of smoke in a stunt that would have made Top Gear proud

A group of Russian motor enthusiasts have tried to make a car-based version of the fidget spinner, and very nearly succeeded in their attempts to make it spin.

In a stunt that would not look out of place on BBC's Top Gear programme, the Novosibirsk-based Garage 54 team welded together the front ends of three Lada Samara cars to see if they could replicate the action of this year's cult toy, Russia's Sputnik news website reports.

Source: BBC News website